What additional studies should be ordered for this lesion?
Splinter with abscess and granulomas

- In this setting, microbiological special stains including an AFB, GMS/PAS for fungus, and tissue Gram stain are helpful to exclude a concomitant infection.
- Splinters are notorious for implanting dematiaceous saprobes leading to chromomycosis or a phaehyphomycotic cyst.
- In this case, all microbiological special stains were negative.
Splinter-note cell walls

Abscess Cavity With Granuloma and granulation tissue