Herpes Simplex Virus infection arising with Squamous Cell Carcinoma
Pearls

- Conventional squamous cell carcinoma may arise with HSV infection
- HSV may be a risk factor for development of skin cancers in hereditarily predisposed patients or immunocompromised patients.